DEPARTMENT OF BOTANY

REPORT

The Department of Botany organized a one-day workshop on Seed Ball Making and an On-the-Spot Poster Presentation Competition on 19 September 2026 in the Botany Laboratory on the occasion of Ozone Day. The programme aimed to create environmental awareness among students and encourage them to participate in eco-friendly activities and develop innovative ideas for environmental conservation.

A total of 88 students participated in the programme, forming 17 groups, with approximately five students in each group. The students enthusiastically participated in the seed ball-making activity and poster presentation competition. The seed ball-making activity helped students understand the importance of seed dispersal, afforestation, biodiversity conservation and the restoration of green cover. The poster presentation competition provided an opportunity for students to express their creativity and awareness of ozone layer protection and environmental conservation.

The competition was conducted successfully and prizes were awarded to the best-performing teams. The prize winners were as follows:

- First Prize: Bibi Zohara and Team
- Second Prize: Radha Y. S. and Team
- Third Prize: Varshini and Team

As part of the programme, seed balls were distributed to students in the Botany Laboratory on 21 September 2026 to encourage them to participate in tree planting and environmental protection activities.
