Report on " Consumer Empowerment: The Battle of Original vs Fake Products"

The Department of Commerce organized a demonstration on "Original vs Fake Products" for Second Year B.Com students on 4th November 2026, from 11:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. at Akkamahadevi Seminar Hall as part of the Consumer Behaviour subject.

The activity is aimed to provide a platform to exhibit the students ability of buyers to make informed decisions and protect themselves from unfair trade practices.
The demonstration was conducted to educate students about the identification of original and counterfeit products through various aspects such as packaging, branding, quality, price, labels, trademarks, and authenticity marks. Students actively participated in the demonstration by displaying and comparing original and fake products from different categories.

Objectives of the Activity

- To create awareness among students about the differences between original and fake products
- To educate students on identifying genuine products through packaging, quality, branding, price, and labels.
- To develop consumer awareness and encourage responsible purchasing decisions.
- To highlight the importance of checking quality standards, trademarks, and authenticity marks.
- To explain the disadvantages of purchasing fake products and their impact on consumers and businesses
- To promote consumer rights and ethical buying practices.

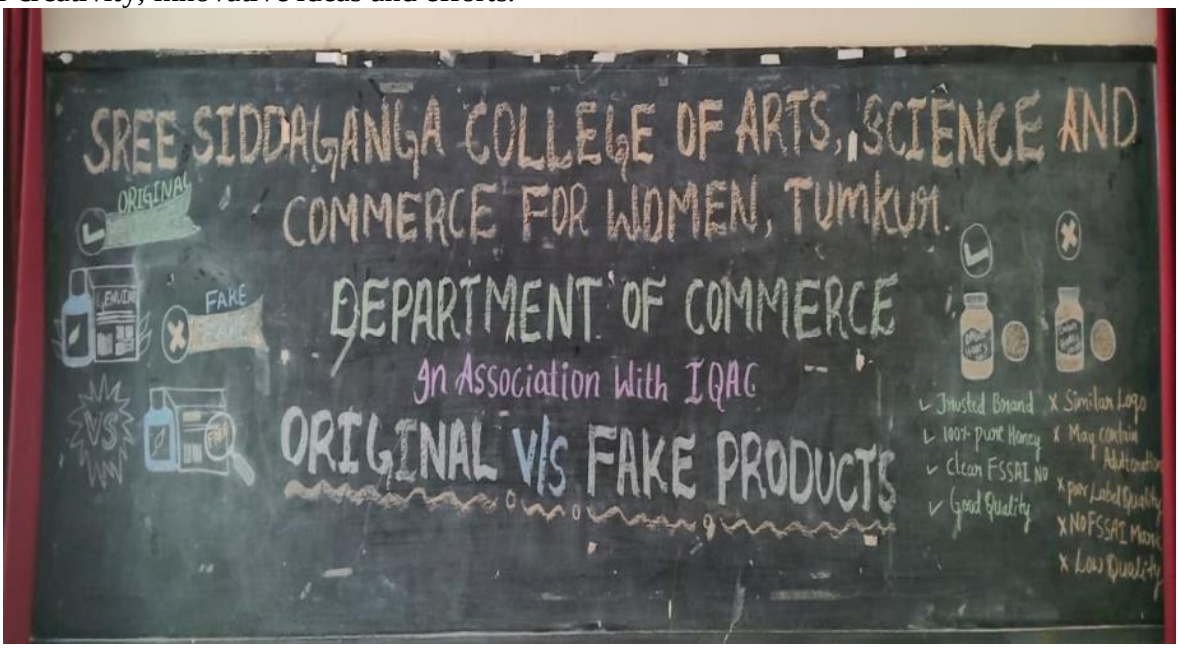

Highlights of the Activity

The activity highlighted the risks associated with purchasing counterfeit products, including poor quality, health and safety concerns, and financial loss. It also emphasized the importance of consumer awareness, responsible purchasing decisions, and consumer rights.

The demonstration provided students with practical knowledge and helped them understand the significance of being informed and vigilant consumers. The programme was informative, interactive, and beneficial in developing consumer awareness among students.
